Times Square

Emily Kinney

What can I, what can I do for you, honey?
Buy you a coffee, lend you some money
Walk you to Times Square, walk to the moon
What can I, what can I, what can I
What can I do?Oh, it's been a long time, but it's been about right
You're looking like you need a kiss or a fight
Without my love you don't know how to live
Is there somebody, somebody else
That could make it worth it?
Somebody else
Somebody else
Somebody elseAnd I know you're alone most of the day
I know you spend nights the very same way
I know you're not with somebody new
I won't break his heart to fix you
And I think, and I pray about last September
As time goes by I barely remember
And I know that you say you would change that night
But I was never yours
And you're no longer mineOh, I'd like to kiss you, but my lips are purple
I'd like to love you, but our love was spent
When we wasted our wishes
Hurt our best friends
Made a home in heartache
And now can't pay the rentSo, what can I, what can I do for you, honey?
I'm not a movie star, pretty play bunny
I'm just a lucky hack fooling myself
If you want perfection look to somebody else
Somebody else
Somebody else
Somebody elseAnd I know you're alone most of the day
I know you spend nights the very same way
I know you're not with somebody new
I won't break his heart to fix you
And I think, and I pray about last September
As time goes by I barely remember
And I know that you say you would change that night
But I was never yours
And you're no longer mineSo, what can I, what can I do for you, honey?

Buy you a coffee, lend you some money
Walk you to Times Square, walk to the moon
What can I, what can I, what can I
What can I, what can I, what can I
What can I, what can I, what can I, what can I do?
