Donâ€™t Slip Away

Jefferson Airplane

Almost been a year since we've been together
Suddenly the past has fallen in behind us
Seems so long ago since you drifted awayNow all I know is I want you to stay
Don't slip away, oh no, don't slip away
Now that you're here we should just let it happenYou know I'm sorry, but what can I say?
Some things are best if they're only forgotten
But time for changing should begin with today.The best years are after tomorrow
You can't hide what we shared with each other
Now that you're here we should just let it happen
I know you still care and feel the same wayDon't slip away, oh no, don't slip away
I'm sure there's more love in your heart than you're showingNow it depends on what you have to say.
INSTRUMENTAL BREAK.
Don't slip away, oh no, don't slip away
Now that you're here we should just let it happen

Songwriters
Spence, Alex / Balin, MartyPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, MARYANN SARAH SHELLEY MUSIC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/