

I Should've Known

The Pierces

Maybe I should've known, my baby
To leave you alone, maybeMaybe I should've known
I should've known
I should've knownOh, but you couldn't stay
Now could you?
Oh, you wouldn't say
Now would you?Oh, but I should've known
I should've known
I should've knownWhen the world is on your back
And life is anticipating
Well, if you think it's love you lack
Mine's here waitingWhen the world is on your back
And life is anticipating
Well, if you think it's love you lack
Mine's here waitingOh, but I'll let you go
I should've known to let it goAnd you didn't know, now did you?
That I'd fall in love with you
Oh, but now it's too late
It's useless to sayI should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've knownI should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
