I Surrender

The Vernons

I Surrender

I knew the minute that he looked at me
He wanted more than just my company
His eyes could tell me all I needed to know
He wanted loving, but I had to say no
But when he kissed me, I became so weak
I tried to tell him but I could not speak
The words I was using were only confusing
I didnâ€™t want to hurt him and I heard myself saying

I surrender, and I donâ€™t want to fight you
Canâ€™t you see me waving a white flag
I surrender, your kiss is all inviting
Canâ€™t you see me waving a white flag
I donâ€™t want to turn you down - now I want you back
I surrender, and I donâ€™t want to fight you
Canâ€™t you see Iâ€™m waving a white flag now

My friends all told me not to mess around
He picked me up and then he put me down
I couldnâ€™t let him make a fool of my heart
So I told him that I think we should part
He listen to me and he listened good
But nothing goes the way you think it should
When he started walking, my heart started talking
I didnâ€™t want to hurt him and I heard myself saying

Repeat chorusâ€¦
