

Trying to Drive (feat. Aslyn) [Live]

Zac Brown Band

He might be right
I'm out of luck when I'm out of feist and out of touch
With this little smile I call my own
Don't feel like home anymoreBut you make the most of what it's not Till a little love feels like a lot
And I blame you and you blame meBut you're not always right
I'm not always wrong
It's not like I don't try
This is where we belong.
One way, everything's gonna be away
But darlin', I'm on your side
'Cause it's the one wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to driveNo one can do what you do,
You know I'm not right if I'm not right with you
And I'll save you if you save me
And I'll be the one to lay it all out on the lineBut you're not always right
I'm not always wrong
It's not like I don't try
This is where we belong
One way, everything's gonna be away
But darlin', I'm on your side
'Cause it's the one wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to driveI can feel it under my seat
You're on the sideline of my life
Watch the rain fall to the ground
To the beat of the same old fightAnd every song is brewing this war
And I find myselfIn the mix of it, give a little bit
We're gonna fly, gonna fly, flyOne way, everything's gonna be away
But darlin' I'm on your sideDarlin' I'm on your side'Cause it's the one wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
One way, everything's gonna be awayBut darlin' I'm on your side.'Cause it's the one wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to drive (x5)
