

Three Thoughts

John Frusciante

(As translated by Chimera)

Every action going down to murder every day Im gonna kill my past time gives endless spark to futures anyway Im gonna fill my last The place in the sky she let in light it drifted awhile and it faded out it fades all along- it ended I give three thoughts just to say hey.

Animation of the furthest thought heard animation hit the street lights empty gazes hit the strip-mall in poison veins in the streams flight awakened by sight to that closed eye straining through the echoes of Shadows as they FIGHT! as they tear themselves down you won't give up from swinging will you?
