House of Cards

Janet Devlin

Dear love, how've you been?
Do you still play our records On your record machine?
"Born to die." "Nevermind."Dear friends, I found the key
To the box beneath your bed where we hid everything.
Funny how, don't need it now.This polaroid is fading out.Like a house of cards,
We came crashing down
And the King of Hearts' heart was never found
Maybe ten years time, you won't know my name,
But this is still a love song all the same.Hey you, how's this end?
I know it's kinda selfish but I need a friend
Little lies, can't survive.Hey boy, where'd you go?
Has your heart got warmer now your beds got cold
Now I know, you're alone.Our favourite song is fading out.Like a house of cards,
We came crashing down
And the King of Hearts' heart was never found-ound-ound
Maybe ten years time, you won't know my name,
But this is still a love song, this is still a love song.Maybe ten years time, you won't know my name,
But this is still a love song all the same.They say all good things,
They must come to an end,
They say all good things,
They must come to an end,
They say all good things,
They must come to an end,
All good things must end.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/