

Constant Companion

Dennis Wilson

I am your constant companion
Never drifting from your side
Always laughing as you wonder
Who you are, what you are
And what you are here for
Distant voices have been calling
Reaching out from inner space
All the colors you imagine
Are shining in my eyes
The colors that will guide you
I will stay with you forever
I've got more love to share
We will carry on together
Being free, moving free
That's what we are here for
I can hear the sound of thunder
As your children march to war
I will listen as they tell you
Who you are, what you are
And what you are here for
I am your constant companion
We have traveled here before
And even if you don't remember
Who you are, what you are
And what you are here for
I am your life-time companion
I know the secrets of your soul
I have the answer to the question
Carried by the wind
Blowing deep inside you
I am your constant companion
Never drifting from your side
Always laughing as you wonder
Who you are, what you are
And what you are here for

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>