

Starving for Attention

The Narrative

These girls are cut out from magazines wearing pride on fashionable sleeves corner boys with swerving glances settle into leg-locked trances those poor bastards never stand a chance and I know you would like to leave me shaking from all the things that you're insinuating don't you say "now look at what you've made me"
'cause I don't give a damn about you now you once said that beauty lies in truth mother's curves and ignorance of youth lonely now with this disease your desperation aims to please while starving for attention on your knees and I know you would like to leave me shaking
from all the things that you're insinuating
don't you say "now look at what you've made me"
'cause I don't give a damn about you now wait, I think you're better off just gettin' just gettin' some sleep
'cause you've been drinkin' like you need it again and, hey, you know you were beautiful when you were when you were like me yeah, but how you're slipping at the start of the end and I know you would like to leave me shaking
from all the things that you're insinuating and don't you say "now look at what you've made me"
'cause I don't give a damn about you I don't give a damn about you now
