

Waiting for Daylight

A1

I miss your breathing when sleep doesn't come
I can't help pretending you'll be home
I can't face the future, now you're in the past
Seems all of the best things never last
But there's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come
They say I get through this
But how could they know
How can I make it on my own?
You're here in the shadow, you cover my heart
And I hear you whisper in the dark
There's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come
I don't wanna let you go
But in time, but in time
I'll wake up for all I know
I'll be fine
But there's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>