

Strive (Previously Unreleased)

Dynamite Boy

don't wanna feel, don't wanna get dragged down by monotony and i'd rather feel a pain that's real than hide behind a routine and i've gotta be the real me struggling for answers to questions that plague me, i've gotta be the only thing that i can depend on that anthem in my head, it makes me want it all that anthem in my head, it makes me keep on fighting the things i see that bother me can only make me stronger i have to go down my own road even if the path takes longer fighting to see and not believe that everybody must get older i'm hanging on, i'll sing my song won't let my heart grow colder they know everything gave up their free thinking because they've seen it all next stop is at the mall

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>