

Burst

Magazine

Once you had this promise
On the tip of your tongue
But it went without saying
It went on too long All the straws you clutched at
Have burst into flames
And so you smile that way
Tantalizingly lame The smart ones understood+
How your heart bursts
Like a bottle of champagne
You're just desserts The smart ones understand
You shouldn't settle for less
You're gonna forget yourself
In my happiness Keep your silence to yourself
You will forget yourself
Keep your silence to yourself
You will forget yourself You will forget yourself
You will forget yourself
You will forget yourself
You will forget yourself Keep your silence to yourself
You will forget yourself
Keep your silence to yourself
You will forget yourself You will forget yourself
(In my happiness)
You will forget yourself
(In my happiness) You will forget yourself
(In my happiness)
You will forget yourself
(In my happiness) You will forget yourself
(In my happiness)
You will forget yourself
(In my happiness) You will forget yourself
(In my happiness)
You will forget yourself
(In my happiness)
