

What Is It Now?

Badly Drawn Boy

So now that life will never be the same
We've got to face the thought of loneliness again
Try and get inside your lover's brain
Drag an old romance from dirty ditch, and then So what is it now that it can't be made to feel right
Don't answer now, I know somehow we'll be alright Level out and help us find a place
You've got to see the sights from somewhere else again, yeah
The modern innocents have changed the pace
They've got to know it's all been answered incidentally So what is it now that it can't be made to feel right
Don't answer now, I know somehow we'll be alright So now that life will never be the same
We've got to face the thought of loneliness again
You know we'll be alright So what is it now that it can't be made to feel right
Don't answer now, I know somehow we'll be alright
Yeah, what is it now that it can't be made to feel right
Don't answer now, I know somehow we'll be alright So now that life will never be the same
We've got to face the thought of loneliness again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>