

The Last Song I'm Wasting On You

Evanescence

Sparkling gray, through my own veins
Any more than a whisper, any sudden movement of my heart
And I know, I know I'll have to watch them pass away
Just get through this day Give up your way, you could be anything
Give up my way and lose myself, not today
That's too much guilt to pay Sickened in the sun you dare tell me you love me
But you held me down and screamed you wanted me to die
Honey, you know, you know I'd never hurt you that way
You're just so pretty in your pain Give up my way and I could be anything
I'll make my own way
Without your senseless hate, hate, hate, hate So run, run, run
And hate me, if it feels good
I can't hear your screams anymore You lied to me but I'm older now
And I'm not buying baby
Demanding my response
Don't bother breaking the door down I found my way out And you'll never hurt me again
