

Crashing Down

Trail of Tears

Crashing down from divine disgrace
Hanging on with a bitter restraint
They never seemed to care that your hope was lost once more
They never seemed to care that your mind was turned to stone
Let your conviction die in their sea of lies Treasure me `cause I am the only hope you'll ever see Treasure me `cause I am the one who'll heal you of this disease They've come to take you and drag you down to where your fear becomes their ally
They have the power to bend the shape of mankind's logic into despair
They'll let indecency establish itself in the lack of solid consent
Crawling deeper into your hole
Seeking strength to prevent your fall
You proved them wrong at last and they turned away in shame
You proved them wrong at last, let's celebrate their end

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>