Vanished

Meshuggah

Convalescent livid we succumb
Stagnation now complete
This is the new plague called unconsciousness
We're self caged in defeat
Clotted minds coagulate

We are trapped inside the tears
We obey resignate to our self inflected fears Voices calm will be never heard

In this mode who will change

Bantised in our minds so absurd

Is this the world sublime

Into pools of paranoia we're fading with reality

Drained by lies we are all inhuman

Introspective vanishingSterile thoughts now upraised in sub human majesty

Bodies numb still enchained

Where am I in hell of our dreams?

Wrong, wrong I'm in the now the vain realitySo it seems we're dying yet content

Worship our chrysalis stage

Since when are lies divine

Since when, since when This is now degrade indulge
This is us servile obliging Swallowed by our hunger for mendacity
As this dance approves whirls deeper into hate
We're vanishing In down deep cold where am I caught cage?

Trapped not in dreams now time has killed

Our eyes fall fade gone dead away
