Saloon Song

Burn Halo

It was raining when I walked through the door
I didn't know that I'd find what I was looking for
I saw you there from across the room
Through the haze and the smoke of that old saloon
I tried looking away but I just had to stayThey say that time keeps flying on by
But I keep thinking about that first nightI saw you smiling
I knew I had to talk to you and had to swallow my pride
I heard you telling all your friends you met someone
And how we talked all night
And I still hear you, and I still see you after all this timeI sat down and bought you one more drink
Listened to you talk, I swear I could hear you think
So I asked you "Could I see you again?"
You just laughed and grabbed my hand
You've been holding on tight, ever since that nightThey say that time keeps flying on by
But if I'm with you that's alright.I saw you smiling
I knew I had to talk to you and had to swallow my pride
I heard you telling all your friends you met someone
And how we talked all night
And I still hear you, and I still see you after all this timeAnd after all the good, the bad, the ugly and the sad
I remember that first day and I still feel the sameI saw you smiling from across the roomI saw you smiling
I knew I had to talk to you and had to swallow my pride
I heard you telling all your friends you met someone
And how we talked all night (after all this time)
I saw you smiling (after all this time)
I saw you smiling (after all this time)
I saw you smiling
I saw you smiling
