Exception

Ana Johnsson

Pride is for the privileged, pride is for a few
Who can't afford a conscience clean and morals too
You can't undo what can't be undone
I can't rewind and so I runException, yeah, you are my exception
Exception, yeah, you are my exception
ExceptionYou came to me with confidence, I saw the devil smile
You said, hey here's your second chance, redemption for a life
A heart-shaped magic lucky charm
My gift to you will keep me warmException, yeah, you are my exceptionIf I could be your angel flying through a desert storm
A soothing calm oasis
You would always be my one exceptionI had an inner vision, attacking from behind
A backstabbing illusion, no smoke without a fire
You told the truth, I lived a lie
There's nothing I won't sacrificeException, yeah, you are my exception
Exception, yeahIf I could be your angel flying through a desert storm
A soothing calm oasis
You would always be my one exception
