

Waters of Jordan

Castro

You are my rock, my only fortress
You are everywhere, everything you are abounding
All in your being, you are my healing
Like the waters of Jordan You speak in light, to all of my senses
With every move across the room you have my attention
With only a whisper, you make me crumble
Like the walls of Jericho I don't wanna waste this moment, I just wanna stay right here
Even when you don't say nothing, I can hear you loud and clear
When you hold me close the whole world disappears The breaking of tide, my today and tomorrow
You lead me through infinity, you go and I follow
In every second, you are timeless
Like the words of Frost or Poe I don't wanna waste this moment, I just wanna stay right here
Even when you don't say nothing, I can hear you loud and clear
When you hold me close the whole world disappears You are my rock, my only fortress
You are everywhere, everything you are abounding
All in your being, you are my healing
Like the waters of Jordan
