Dream a Little Dream

Ginger Minj

When I was a child
I asked the starry sky: "Tell me what will I be?
A butterfly? A better me? "

When I was alone
Inside my broken home
I fought back so many tears
Of the doubt, hate and fears

'Cause it's hard to be a different kind of boy
Making lots of noise inside a crazy world
When they take what you're feeling inside
And they make you want to hide

So, fly
Wings lit by a flame
Don't worry how high
They burn through the rain
So, fly
Inspire out the pain
Don't listen to darkness
Dream your own way
Dream your own way

When I was young and wild
I asked the universe: "Will it ever be safe to love the real me? "
I felt so alone in [?] I couldn't call a home
So I dared to dream a little dream
It was closer than it seemed

'Cause it's hard to be a different kind of boy
Making lots of noise inside a crazy world
When they take what you're feeling inside
And they make you want to hide

So, fly
Wings lit by a flame
Don't worry how high
They burn through the rain
So, fly

Inspire out the pain
Push through the darkness
Your dream will come one day

Now that I'm grown
I told infinity
I can be anything
Just watch me

I know it's hard being a different kind of men
Making lots of noise inside this crazy world
So take all your feelings inside
And no longer need to hide
Don't hide

Just fly
Wings lit by a flame
Don't worry how high
They burn through the rain
So, fly
Inspire out the pain
Don't listen to darkness

Just fly
Don't worry how high
They burn through the rain
So, fly
Inspire out the pain
Dream your own way
Dream your own way
