You Don't Know

Exit 159

You never look my way.
I never thought I would say, but it won't go away.
I never want it to.
Lately I've been run-run-running.
Save my ship, yeah.
Save myself today.
And it won't be long now.
I'll just be patient.
Yeah it'll come along soon.
No more waiting.
And if you're so smart then hang up the phone. (We will right an old wrong)
And if you know the words why don't you sing along? (We will right an old wrong)
And if it's too hard, then don't come home.
Lately I've been run-run-running.
Save my ship, yeah.
Save myself today.
And it won't be long now.
I'll just be patient.
Yeah it'll come along soon.
No more waiting.
And if you're so smart then hang up the phone. (We will right an old wrong)
And if you know the words why don't you sing along? (We will right an old wrong)
And if it's too hard, then don't come home.
Home.
No more waiting.
And if you're so smart then hang up the phone. (We will right an old wrong)
And if you know the words why don't you sing along? (We will right an old wrong)
And if it's too hard, then don't come home.
Home.
