

Bringin' Her Back

David Lee Murphy

Check the ol' buddy fill her up with ethyl
'Cause I got a long drive in sight
My baby just left me for a pool shootin' fella
And I'm gonna bring her back tonightAw, he don't really need her and I know he's gonna feed her full
Of promises he can't keep
But I'm the one to blame 'cause I been drivin' her insane
By stayin' out six nights a weekSo buddy check the tires, I'll leave the engine runnin'
'Cause I can't waste no more time
I got sixty-three miles of two lane before I even Cross that Tennessee lineI know my baby needs me and I hope that when she sees me
That she's gonna wanna come back home
I let her slip away and that's the price you gotta pay
But I ain't leavin' there aloneI'm bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back home
Bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back homeSo buddy take a ten don't worry 'bout the windows
I can see enough to get me by
Forget about the change, I don't need the money
She's the only thing on my mindAw, heads will be a spinnin' when I cross the city limits
'Cause she's been away from me too long
So when the Sheriff's askin' if you've seen my car a passin'
You can tell him just where I've goneI'm bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back home
Bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back homeI know my baby needs me and I hope that when she sees me
That she's gonna wanna come back home
I let her slip away and that's the price you gotta pay
But I ain't leavin' there aloneI'm bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back home
Bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back homeI'm bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back home
I'm bringin' her back
Bringin' my baby back homeBring her back home, home, home
Bring her back home, home, home
Bring her back home, home, home
Bring her back home, home
