When It Comes to You

Aaron Carter

Oh yeah, oh yeahSix thirty, mama gets you out of bed
You e-mail what you gonna wear to your girlfriend
You skip your breakfast, forget your backpack
And you're half way, you run backYou're daddy's angel with a halo
Everybody's lookin' at you more like J. Lo.
But there is so much more to you
So put me to the test, I don't have to guess
What you wanna know now, baby?When it comes to you
I know everythin' and anythin'
What you like to do, what you like to wear
What you're puttin' in your hairI know you smile when you get mad
I know 'The Green Mile' makes you sad
I'll stop for now, but I ain't through, no
When it comes to youNow, your middle name is August
But I remember, you were born in November
You lived in Jersey but you're from Montario
Your twin sister likes to talk in stereoWe got so much in common
Like 'Jane And Reeds' with lots of bottom
But there's more we can do
So put me to the test, I don't even have to swear
What you wanna know now, baby?When it comes to you
I know everythin' and anythin'
What you like to do, what you like to wear
What you're puttin' in your hairI know you smile when you get mad
I know 'The Green Mile' makes you sad
I'll stop for now, but I ain't through though
When it comes to you, when it comes to youI want you to know, baby, I've been studyin'
Pullin' all nighters, when I could've been partyin'
I can't fail, it's in the details
Understandin' all that which is femaleSome guys don't ever see what they're missin'
Talkin' about the times, when they should be listenin'
I pay attention to things you say to me
When it comes to you, it's in my memoryBaby, yeahWhen it comes to you
I know everythin' and anythin'
What you like to do, what you like to wear
What you're puttin' in your hairI know you smile when you get mad
I know 'The Green Mile' makes you sad
I'll stop for now, but I ain't through thoughWhen it, when it, when it comes to you
I know everythin' and anythin'

What you like to do, what you like to wear
What you, what you're puttin' in your hairI know you smile when you get mad
I know 'The Green Mile' makes you sad
I'll stop for now, but I ain't through though
When it comes to you, when it comes to you
When it comes to you, when it comes to you
