

Wake Up the Mountain

Halloween

Some people die
And even never realize
Man's growing blind
Is seeing owly with the eyes
We think we're strong
Belive we never could be wrong
But we are fools
Because we're dying by the rules Though I cannot change the world we're living in
I can always change myself One more to count in
Wake up the mountain
All colour's slowly
Turning to gray
All world is darkling
Wake up the mountain
And we will find it once more again Cash and carees
Built on the countless sums of fears
All goods of life
Begin to vanish behind tears
How do we know
Why did we choose the way we follow
Why do we hurt
Why do we hurt the ones we love Though I cannot change the worlg we're living in
I can always change myself One more to count in
Wake up the mountain
All colour's slowly
Turning to gray
All world is darkling
Wake up the mountain
And we will find it once more again We made the rules and we can change them
Break down the orders one by one
We made the laws and we can break them
Break down the mountain, stone by stone... One more to count in
Wake up the mountain
All colour's slowly
Turning to gray
All world is darkling
Wake up the mountain
And we will find it once more again
