

Evergreen

Jones Street Station

I saw your face before you came
Hope upon hope day after day
Now that you're here I'll keep you safe
No one will take you away

Year after year it's all the same
Criminals win and widows pay
A pile of sand from shattered pearls
Beauty will not save the world

But won't you walk with me
Underneath the pine trees
Promise that we can be
Evergreen

Won't you tread softly in my home
We have a child trying to grow
It's dark outside but light in here
Can't it shine just one more year
Maybe the time has finally come
When hope has died and fear has won
A snowy dream covered in stains
Everyone slowly goes grey

But won't you walk with me
Underneath the pine trees
Promise that we can be
Evergreen

All your friends and lovers
Sisters and your brothers
Flowers in the summer sun
Bright for a day

Won't you walk with me
Underneath the pine trees
Promise that we can be
Evergreen
