

Why Can't I

Andy Kim

Once there was a room
in a house
That I could run to and paint my world
with secret dreams
that would come true

It all seemed so easy then Seems so hard today

Why can't I ever find my way?

Once there was a road
Going south
That I could head for And fill my world
with all the things
my heart had sent for

Didn't need no reason then Feel so lost today

Why can't I ever find my way?
Why can't I ever find my way?

It only happened once before
When I came running
When I came knocking on your door...

Why can't I ever find my way?
