

To the Stars

Twilight Force

A burning star on the horizon,
Illuminates the moon for the destiny of fate
As the prophecy of wisdom, unfolds before our eyes,
And the everlasting flames are burning higher
Time has come, and we must be on our way
Before the magic star is lost
Whispering shadows
Calling your name, calling your name
Leading you to the star
Come, fly away over golden fields of dreams
To worlds far beyond
With the power of starlight, power of hope
Journey past the skies
With a burning fire in our hearts
We will travel to the stars
Bleak and grim horizons looming
Dark misty plains now lies ahead
For the sake of hope and magic
We have to carry on
For the destiny of starlight we must fly
Star of the twilight
Calling your name, calling your name
Leading you to your fate
Now, we will fly over golden fields of dreams
To worlds far beyond
With the power of starlight, power of hope
Journey past the skies
With a burning fire in our hearts
We will travel to the stars
As they flew over sparkling skies they became one with the stars
With the power of starlight, power of hope
Journey past the skies
With a burning fire in our hearts
We will travel to the stars
We will fly away, we will call your name
We will travel to the stars
