The Less You KnowÂ (feat. Maysa)

Incognito

There are times you question why
You give all that you have
And nothing ever seems to come your way
And no matter how you try
The end is just the same
You always seem to play a loosing gameIt's time to put aside the questions in your mind
There's no getting over/ loving the easy way
It's time that we all need to overcome the hurt
There's no getting over/ loving the easy way
The less you know the better
The storm will soon be over
Don't let jealousy get in the way
The less you know the better
So get yourself together
Everything is gonna be O.K.When you've been through this before
The first is like the last
Gets you thinking here we go again
You try but can't ignore
And It driving you insane
Trying to find a way out of the loosing game
It's time to put aside the questions in your mind
There's no getting over/ loving the easy way
It's time that we all need to overcome the hurt
There's no getting over/ loving the easy way
