The Sanctuary Hum

Project 86

Smile wave, convince the sanctuary our charade
Though you're the object of my deep rage
Just counterfeit this holiness for me
And everything will be okay
My sweet one you tell no lies
The greatest reason to be despised
We must pretend, your broken wrist
Just happened when you fell off your bike, your bike, your bike
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
Smile wave, protect his pulpit from all suffering
He'll make celebrity the end game
So much more valuable than family
Not even violence can betray
Long as you keep your limbs
Locked up till the end of this age
Even if you won't
It's your word up against what he'll say, he'll say, he'll say

This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
Cry girl, become the wails of victims unheard
Your tears have given you the calm nerve
So if they're asking you to hide your bane
You just keep screaming to the grave
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
You'll be the reason the helpless celebrate
He takes us, He takes us from our violent shame
This is the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
This is the reason the helpless celebrate
He takes us, He takes us from our violent shame

You?ll be the reason the sanctuary hums
God save us, God save us from your chosen ones
