

Mountains

Cazadores

Mountains

If I donâ€™t believe any longer
Will faith make me stronger
Will I end up in hell

If I'm not back until tomorrow
Donâ€™t hang your head in sorrow
If tomorrow never comes

If I donâ€™t live to tell the tale
About the moments that we shared
All the moments you carried me away

I held a hundred different keys
And you opened up for me
Now you never open up so easily

We could start a family
Live a life so peacefully
Somewhere there is a place for us, our kids will grow up gracefully I know

I don't beg, steal or borrow
Cautiously I follow
The footsteps of those days

I donâ€™t want to go on solo
My troubles got me so low
I donâ€™t want to be alone anymore

If I donâ€™t live to see the day
All the promises we made are set aside
Put them back in the shade

I know in all of our dreams
Things are not what they seem
Now we see them tearing at the seams

Think about this carefully there's still a life for you and me
We could start a family, live a life so peacefully I know

While everybody talks about the turning tide our mountains turn to sand
From past regrets we'll live it up and Iâ€™™ll put my life in your hands

For your love
For your love
For your love
I fall to pieces
