

Go

Freja Kirk

You look away because you know I'm right
You close your eyes, you know it's not worth the fight
You look away to conquer all the tears in you
Said after all, I'm glad that you have feelings too
You know it wasn't well done
You know it, I can tell from the way you look away from me
You had your chance, you blew it
You screwed it up, so leave You hurt me now, go
You took my breath
And I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you
Was that your best?
Can't believe I'm just another girl crying cuz
I still don't know you
You took my breath
and I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you
And no, no no no no You hurt me now, go
You hurt me now, go
Hey I look away emptiness is breathing from in
I close my eyes, hey, cuz they're too heavy to see You know it wasn't well done
You know it, I can tell from the way you look away from me
You had your chance, you blew it
You screwed it up
So leave, leave, leave You hurt me now, go
You took my breath
And I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you
Was that your best?
Can't believe I'm just another girl crying cuz
I still don't know you.
You took my breath
And I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you
I thought that I knew you, oh no. You told me you needed me
You promised me that we would be (forever)
You told me you needed me
You promised that we would be (together) You took my breath
And I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you
Was that your best?
Can't believe I'm just another girl crying cuz
I still don't know you

You took my breath
And I would never let another girl get the chance to say that she knew you Oh no, no
Oh no, no You hurt me now, go
You hurt me now, go
Go
You hurt me now, go
