

Remember

Skold

Doesn't matter if the world stopped turning

I don't think I'd even care

And if God decides to drop the curtain

It won't matter much to me

Granted clemency

I lose myself in apathy

Perverse affinity

A self induced amnesia

No discrepancy

My ignorance will set me free

Erase my memory

I suffocate in hate

Lost

It slowly went away

Was gone without a trace

I'm tired and I can't

Remember

I thought it came to stay

And put me in my place

I'm tired and I won't

Remember

Like the night embrace the strange and lonely

Bring me shelter in the dark

It don't matter if the sun stop shining

It might save me from what's real
