White Canvas

A-ha

Stories are painted in lines on your face
Misunderstandings and little mistakes
A chance to start over is all that it takes
You know if you do your life is a canvas
The colors are you
Follow me out, follow me 'round
Let's make the road up as we go along
Just as we planned you want to believe it
You know that it's true your life is a canvas
The colors are you
You cannot erase them the words that were said
Just paint them over inside of your head all that is needed
You know you must make one leap of faith
Everything else will fall into place
Follow me out, follow me 'round
Let's make it up and go back to where it began
All that is needed is one leap of faith
Everything else will fall into place
Anywhere you'll ever go, everyone you'll ever know
You may never find it
Everyone you'll ever see, anyone you choose to be
How you look will decide?
Yeah how you look will decide what you see?
Follow the moon, follow the sun
Let's make a deal this time to stay with the plan
All that is needed is one leap of faith
Everything else will fall into place
Everything else will fall into place
Stories are painted in the lines of your face

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/