

Beekeeper

Keaton Henson

Believe me,
Believe me, this loneliness won't go away
Hear me,
Oh, woman that has gone astray
Gone astray Your friends,
Your friends will always just be in your way
Trust me,
They'll die or leave you, either way
Either way You all say I've crossed a line,
But the sad fact is I've lost my mind
You all say I've crossed a line,
But the sad fact is I've lost my mind And I'm just getting started, let me offend
The devil's got nothing on me my friend
All I want is to be left alone
Tact from me is like blood from a stone Cause I'm just getting started, let me offend
The devil's got nothing on me my friend
All I want is to be left alone
Tact from me is like blood from a stone
From a stone Can you see?
Can you see they tell you lies thus keeping you weak
Leave me, my heart is dead for all to see
Can you see? You all say I've crossed a line,
But the sad fact is I've lost my mind
You all say I've crossed a line,
But the sad fact is I've lost my mind Cause I'm just getting started, let me offend
The devil's got nothing on me my friend
All I want is to be left alone
Tact from me is like blood from a stone Cause I'm just getting started, let me offend
The devil's got nothing on me my friend
All I want is to be left alone
Tact from me is like blood from a stone
From a stone
