

Country Girl

Rissi Palmer

Its the way I think not how I talk, oh no
Its a pride you feel that makes you walk the walk
Come Sunday morning palms up in praise
Its all about my mama nem and how I was raised Its a state of mind no matter where youre from Living like your grandma done
'Cause good home training aint a common thing
If this is who you are, let me hear you say You dont have to be a Georgia peach from Savannah Beach to say
From Arkansas to appreciate a Southern drawl
Dont need no kin from West Virginia to have it in ya
Show the world youre a country girl Im the kind of girl says it with a smile, ooh yeah
That sweet as molasses down home style
Im whatcha might call real corn-fed, ooh yeah
Im a country girl born and bred Its a state of mind no matter where youre from Living like your grandma did
'Cause good home training aint a common thing
If this is who you are, let me hear you say You dont have to be a Georgia peach from Savannah Beach to say
From Arkansas to appreciate a Southern drawl
Dont need no kin from West Virginia to have it in ya
Show the world youre a country girl Ladies if you understand
Let me hear you all clap your hands
If you hear me and you know youre bad
All you country girls clap your hands Ladies if you understand
Let me hear you all clap your hands
If you hear me and you know youre bad
All you country girls clap your hands You dont have to be a Georgia peach from Savannah Beach to say
From Arkansas to appreciate a Southern drawl
Dont need no kin from West Virginia to have it in ya
Show the world youre a country girl You dont have to be a Georgia peach from Savannah Beach to say
From Arkansas to sing it with a Southern drawl
Dont need no kin from West Virginia to have it in ya
Show the world youre a country girl

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>