

Cocoon

Guster

"Just one more time", he says
As he crawls into his hole
I'm doing fine he says
As the tears fall down alone Why must you question me?
Do you want your future blown?
Look at the sight of him
What can he do to show you? Living life for others
Shuffle through the day
Everyone is out to get him
What do they have to say? Pull yourself up out of this rut
Make it all come clean
'Cause the day the sun gets in your eyes
Is the day you'll be free Open the door, the world is too young
To see all that you felt before
When all the sleeps ends restlessly
Without time Dream yourself to sleep at night
Only lying beneath the clouds
Spend your lifetime in the shade
When the early morning sun wakes up
To reveal the pain you've laid Open the door, the world is too young
To see all that you felt before
When all the sleeps ends restlessly
Without time

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>