

Love Can Move You (B-Side)

Savage Garden

Get me through the heart of the freeway
I got to see the lights up in New York city
I'm so close I think I can hear the sound of the taxi siren symphony
Don't you want to feel amazing?
Baby you know I do
You'll get back ten times what you give freely
Like my mamma told me Love can move you take you deeper every time
Can make the darkest moments feel like heaven's come alive
Love can move you to a place inside your heart
Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural part of life Climb into the heart of the subway
Creepin' like a snake into New York city
I'm so close I think I can see those lights
Let the sun get closer to the ground
Don't you want to feel amazing?
Baby you know I do
You'll get back ten times what you give freely
Like my mamma told me Love can move you take you deeper every time
Can make the darkest moments feel like heaven's come alive
Love can move you to a place inside your heart
Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural part of life It's about the one thing
It's about the one thing
About the kind of shoes your wearin'
About religion And I breathe the love you've given
And I feel the love you've hidden
And though it's cold down here well I can honestly say
I can still stay That love can move you
Love can move you, baby
Love can move you
That love can move you too child Love can move you take you deeper every time
Can make the darkest moments feel like heaven's come alive
Love can move you to a place inside your heart
Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural part Love can move you take you deeper every time
Can make the darkest moments feel like heaven's come alive
Love can move you to a place inside your heart
Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural part And I breathe the love you've given
And I feel the love you've hidden
And though it's cold down here well I still, I still try Love can move you
You know that love can move you too child
Love can move you

You know that love can move you And I breathe the love you've given
And I feel the love you've hidden
It's cold down here but I still, I still say
