Fate in Motion

Soilwork

I'm facing a trauma, it's crawling inside
Don't walk that line, don't take that ride
Conclusions will show me, the sweetest pain
Don't walk that line, don't take that rideWhat I can see now, I don't want anyone else to see
It doesn't matter somehow, what it does to meFeel how the journey's just begun
Heading for disaster
Formed through the night and it's all mineThe game is to easy, for me to just play
It steals the day, it steals the day
Dividing the image, in possible ways
It steals the day, it steals the dayAnd I can't move at all now
And I can't move at all nowWhat I can hear now, I don't want anyone else to hear
It doesn't matter somehow, what it does to meFeel how the journey's just begun
Heading for disaster
Formed through the night and it's all mineFeel how the journey's just begun
Heading for disaster
Formed through the night and it's all mineJust pull me out, I have nothing to fear
In front of my eyes, never to leave
Just pull me out, I have nothing to fear
In front of my eyes, never to leaveWhat I can see now, I don't want anyone else to see
It doesn't matter somehow, what it does to meWhat I can hear now, I don't want anyone else to hear
It doesn't matter somehow, what it does to me
