

With Whom You Belong

Fistful of Mercy

You find your way to write your song
And come what may
I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong 'Cause you'll never know the reason
Why the seas rise and fall
'Cause you'll never know the reason
Or if there's a reason at all, a reason at all Make sure you stay when you find love in your heart
And as it lights up your way
Don't let your friends fall apart
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong 'Cause you'll never know the reason
Why the seas rise and fall
'Cause you'll never know the reason
Or if there's a reason at all 'Cause you'll never know the reason
Why the sun shines at all
'Cause you'll never know the reason
Why we each must one day fall, must one day fall You find your way to write your song
And come what may
I hope you find friends with whom you belong I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
I said, I hope you find friends with whom you belong
Hope you find friends with whom you belong

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>