You Always Walk Alone

Helloween

When I hold the key to open Heaven's door
I will never make the mistake and give it back (Back back)
When I hold the key to open my mind before
Before it's too late I will never give it back
There's just one way I see
The way I think it's right for me
You say to me I will repent what I do
If it's right I'll stop before
When I see the light of sun will fade away
And I reveal what I have loved before
It's too late when I can't see the hours I pay
And I reveal what I have loved before
There's just one way I see
The way I think it's right for me
You say to me I will repent what I do
If it's right I'll stop before
The life I try to give is all I have inside of me
It's one kind of life for me this music you hear
The strength we have inside is so much more than you will know
If you can't see the life around, you'll always walk alone
Look at the drunk man, look into his eyes
See his strong hands but tomorrow they will tremble cold as ice
See the drunk man, try to ask him why
He will laugh and tomorrow he will tell you another lie
There's a fight in his head he cannot win
Getting stronger, makes him mad, burning sin
You, you cannot hide
You cannot describe your feelings inside
The life I try to give is all I have inside of me
It's one kind of life for me this music you hear
The strength we have inside is so much more than you will know
If you can't see the life around you'll always walk alone
Aaah

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/