

Amnesia

Guy Sebastian

I remember how it burns, How it burns,
slowly like a ciggeratte, It's like water in my lungs, in my lungs,
coz I'm drowning in my regret, every day it's getting worse,
Like a curse,
I've become an insomniac, and I just can't get over it..
If only I could wake up, and not breathe yeeeaah i wanna know how it feels,
not to need yaaaa
I wish that I could forget you, could forge-het you
and wake up, and wake up and wake up with amnesia
these memories are like a stain, like a stain,
and it's branded on my brain, oh why won't it fade away, fade away?
coz every stranger has your face, and if i didn't know my name, it's okaayy

girl as long as you're erased, cuz i just can't get over it
if only i could wake up, and not breathe yeaah
could forge-het you
who said it's better to be loved, than to have never loved at all?

they were wrong, they were wrong! coz nothing will ever compare
if only i could wake up, and not breathe yeaaaah i wanna know how it feels not to need yaaa wish that i could forget you forge-het you
with amnesia yeah yeaah yeaaaah oooh yeah
forge-het youu
with amnesia.
