

Seasons to Cycles

10 Years

How small do you want me to be?
Weighed in the balance left lonelySo much can be said through silence
As hard as it seems
All that we need is to close to be seenOur lives
You build your walls for me to climb
A billion walls for me to climb
You build your walls for me to climbTravels the very nature we live in Seasons to cycles children to menMislead and misread, company or companion
With all of our hearts we follow our dreams
Slightly out of reachOur lives
You build your walls for me to climb
A billion walls for me to climb
You build your walls for me to climbOur lives
You build your walls for me to climb
A billion walls for me to climb
You build your walls for me to climb

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>