

Alone (Crushed by Your Lies)

Project Silence

I'm alone, in this little death that some may call life
So confused, tattered, torn apart Still waiting to be lifted from this prison of my flesh
To be set free from this pain Crushed I am between the sliding doors of life
And the chances I've been given, but still alone Mistake for a creation
Fault in the product line
Mass-produced , dehumanized
Cast out to oblivion I can't raise my head up high
I've been pressed down to the ground
Left alone to suffer in the silence of lonely souls One day I will defeat this everlasting misery and reach for the skies Where you are Mistake for a creation
Fault in the product line
Mass-produced, dehumanized
Cast out to oblivion Crushed I am between the sliding doors of life
And the chances I've been given, but still alone Mistake for a creation
Fault in the product line
Mass-produced, dehumanized
Cast out to oblivion
