

Cold Wind

Black Rebel Motorcycle Club

Cant change all the things Ive done, I know
Im chasing the reason and my soul
I feel it gone, I feel it gone Ive been waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind Ive been here a thousand times, I know
I thought that the point was to take it slow
Now I know what you said was true
I feel it gone, I feel it gone Ive been waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
And I feel it all Theres nothing left of this
They steal your innocence
Theres nothing left of this
What use is innocence?
Theres nothing left of this Im drowning in my own disease
Now I know it, now I see
I feel it all, I feel it all Ive been waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Waiting for the right time, just to begin
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
Im feeling like the cold, cold wind
And I feel it all Theres nothing left of this
They steal your innocence
What use is innocence?
And I feel it all Yeah, you're awake and you know it cause you hit the ground
(Yeah, you're awake and you know it cause you hit the ground)
Yeah, youre awake and you know it 'cause you hit the ground
(Yeah, you're awake and you know it cause you hit the ground)
Yeah, were awake and we know it 'cause we hit the ground
(Yeah, were awake and we know it 'cause we hit the ground)
