

Feel It Again

Honeymoon Suite

If you would just be sensible, you'd find me indispensable
I pray deep down to destiny
That it places you with me whoa
Wanting you here, in the sheets
Wandrin' around incomplete
Waiting so long To feel it again
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end
To feel it again (to feel it again)
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end Another scratched or scribbled note
To handsome men in overcoat
Deception right in front of me
A jealous fantasy whoa
Something that sets you apart
Tightens your grip on my heart
Don't ever let it go Till I feel it again
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end
To feel it again (to feel it again)
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end All that I know (to feel it again)
That people may come and people will go
I don't really care (to feel it again)
As long as you're there
As long as you're there Feel it again (to feel it again)
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end
To feel it again (feel it again)
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end To feel it again (to feel it again)
I thought that this heart would never mend
To feel it again I know it is the living end
