My Days Are Better

Overflow

Sometimes the past comes back to haunt me
Sometimes the future seems unknown
But today has enough worries of its own
Sometimes I'm deep in the valley
Sometimes I'm high on the mountaintop
But today none of that mattersSometimes it's hard to believe that I've got You and You're all I need
My days are better, my days are better with You
Everyday I wanna see, more of You and less of me
My days are better, my days are better with YouSometimes I feel just like a hero
Sometimes I feel like I have let you down
But today, I wish those days would disappear
I know You've been through the valley
And I know You've been on the mountaintop
But today, Lord You know I need You hereSometimes it's hard to believe that I've got You and You're all I need
My days are better, my days are better with You
Everyday I wanna see, more of You and less of me
My days are better, my days are betterOh Lord, I can't help but wonder
Why You never gave up on me
I am nothing more than a desperate man in need
I know You're the one who sets me freeSometimes it's hard to believe that I've got You and You're all I need
My days are better, my days are better with You
Everyday I wanna see, more of You and less of me
My days are better, my days are better, yeahSometimes it's hard to believe that I've got You and You're all I need
My days are better, my days are better with You
Everyday I wanna see, more of You and less of me
My days are better, my days are better with You, yeahMy days are better, yeah, with You
My days, my days are better with You
My days, my days are better
