

Sisters at Heart (TheDashDub Ft. Feather)

TheDashDub

Through the long and lonely nights,
To the dark and stormy days,
From the mountains to the prairies,
For every word I say
No matter what the trouble,
No matter what's at stake,
Even if the problem doubles,
And I'm not sure what to make,
I'll have you
I see you flying over mountains,
Leaving obstacles at bay,
Living life without your worries,
No matter what's at stake,
Your my all, my everything,
Exactly what I want to be,
One day I will fly up mountains,
One day I'll reach my peak,
And I'll have you
Soaring through the sky with birds
In the soft embrace of clouds
With my wing stretched to the sun
The silence roaring loud
In my mind,
I'm clearly there
Reaching out to you
I open up my eyes
And I swear that I flew
And I had you
When night is almost over
To find reality
My wings cannot be yours
But in my dreams
I can fly beside you
Together we can soar
And just 'til I wake
I'm alone no more
