

The Host

Lacquer

they never feel they dont even seem real they never try, so why should i something is wrong they never mind, so why should i something invisible is gone dont you get hurt dont you ever need a cure dont you get tired and why and why after awhile after _____ they wont decide, so why should i when they hand it over give it all away well how can you explain when they hand it over noone gets their way noone gets their (plane?) dont you get tired of everyone that you admire something invisible is gone theyll never die, so why should i something is wrong they never mind, so why should i when they hand it over give it all away well how can you explain when they hand it over noone gets away noone gets the (blame?)

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>