

Sad Song (feat. Laura Benanti)

Nashville Cast

There's a bottle o' wine on the kitchen table
    Yeah, just hanging around
    I could open it up and light a candle
        Just burn the whole thing down
        I'll be damned if it ain't raining
    Perfect chance to feel the painBut I don't wanna write a sad song
        I don't wanna sing a sad song
        No, I don't wanna be a sad song tonight.
No, not tonight.I've been broken, God knows all the stories I could tell
    My guitar's so sick of me feeling sorry for myself
        Same ol' heartache, you again,
        Did you come to party?
    Do me in?But I don't wanna write a sad song
        I don't wanna sing a sad song
        No, I don't wanna be a sad song tonight.
    No, not tonight.Just one night find peace in knowing
Where I've been is where I'm goingAnd I don't wanna write a sad song
    I don't wanna sing a sad song
    No, I don't wanna be a sad song tonight.
        No, not tonight.
        Mmmm...
        No, not tonight.
