World's Gone Crazy

Phil Bates

I recognized you on the 6 o'clock news, you were runnin' from the law.
i thought about callin' the line for the wanted but right then your truck stalled.
They pulled you to the ground in front of the whole crowd, like some kind of western show.
Then i poured me a drink, and all i could think was,
i'd rather let you go.

Chorus:
The world's gone crazy, cray-ya-yazy
But it won't change me, no no
it's a damn sham
i don't know who to blam
but it won't change me.

The other day i was a whislin away, shopping at the grocery store when a man with a gun under the lunch time sun hollered to get down to the floor so we did what he said he took the money and fled and every one was a running wild. but me i stood up and i brushed my shirt off kept a'shoppin down the cereal aisle.

Chorus:
The world's gone crazy, cray-ya-yazy
But it won't change me, no no
it's a damn sham
i don't know who to blam
but it won't change me.

Chorus:
The world's gone crazy, cray-ya-yazy
But it won't change me, no no
it's a damn sham
i don't know who to blam
but it won't change me.

The worlds gone cray-yay-yazy but it wont change me nooo oohhh mm hmmm

Lyrics submitted by Britt Denicola.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/